Mirra® 2 TriFlex Back Work Chair Frequently Asked Questions

Mirra 2 TriFlex™ Back Overview

How does the Mirra 2 TriFlex back compare with the Butterfly Back™?

While the new TriFlex back is better than the original, it does not offer the same level of conformation and support that the Butterfly Back offers. It does, however, set a new benchmark for performance within the performance work chair category.

Is the Mirra 2 TriFlex back the supporting structure of the Butterfly Back, with upholstery added?

No. This was the case with the original Mirra's TriFlex back in its upholstered version. However, the Butterfly Back is visibly different upon comparison and delivers a level of responsiveness that can only be achieved through its dynamic hybrid structure.

How does the new TriFlex back differ from the original?

The new TriFlex back provides a higher degree of adaptivity and support for the sitter. The new TriFlex back is more "sensitive," allowing for a new level of contouring and micro-motion. While not the same performance level as the Butterfly Back, Mirra 2's TriFlex back option is a significant enhancement over the Mirra TriFlex back.

How similar is the look of the Mirra 2 TriFlex back to the original TriFlex back?

There is a noticeable difference in the ratio of open space to material between the two backs. The hole pattern of the Mirra 2 TriFlex back is more open, allowing greater aeration. Thanks to its design enhancements, the Mirra 2 TriFlex back also offers improved performance over the original, even though it uses less material.

What colours will be available for Mirra 2 TriFlex?

Mirra 2 TriFlex will be available in 8 colours that align with the palette of the Butterfly Back: Cappuccino, Dark Turquoise, Graphite, Lime Green, Slate Grey, Studio White, Twilight, and Urban Orange.

What is happening to the original Mirra chair?

The current target plan is to discontinue Mirra in Fall 2015. As the TriFlex launch progresses, we will continue to evaluate customer needs to ensure positive transition from Mirra to Mirra 2. Of course, we will continue to service Mirra chairs currently in market and provide warranty support.
